ESCOLA PROFISSIONAL AGRÍCOLA FERNANDO BARROS LEAL

The Fernando Barros Leal Vocational -Agricultural School has been in activity since 1989. Currently it holds an agriculture field of 33 hectares of vineyard, 20 hectares of land for pasture and 1 hectare of greenhouses. Integrated in the school facilities there is a winery, a large park of agriculture machinery and livestock, which includes cattle and horses. There are 300 students attending the school and 35 teachers, all professionals with superior qualification.

Currently our pedagogical offer is the following:

Agriculture Management Course, vegetal or animal branch - the students develop professional skills the know-how so as to start and manage farming enterprises (vegetal and animal), which involves coordinating and performing the necessary activities related to the agricultural sector, and guaranteeing the production level and quality, the preservation of the environment and the alimentary security of the consumers.

Rural and Environmental Tourism- The students are trained and qualified in order to participate in the valorisation of tourism in rural areas and carry on with tasks of reception, information and animation in events.

Forestry and Environmental resources - the trainees are prepared to take part in the establishment and sustained management of a forestry enterprise, accomplishing activities of forestry protection and valorisation.

Besides regular class hours, the training periods and national and international field trips have been always considered essential. Therefore the school maintains cooperation and partnership protocols with several institutions. Through several years the international student's exchange programmes were well-succeeded and continue to take part of the educational project of this school.
